Project Description

Project Title: Kelbaker Road Berm Restoration

Project Location: The project is located on Kelbaker Road, approximately 7.5 miles south of the I-40, north of Route 66 in the unincorporated community of Essex within the County of San Bernardino.

Project Description: The project includes restoring a damaged earthen berm to its historical placement and shoulder grading in order to divert water and debris flows from crossing the road and making unsafe conditions for motorists. The washed-out berm material will be pushed from an upland area to its historical location in order to reduce flood risk and maintain services essential to public safety and welfare.
